Recent news and research

3.13 Musculoskeletal diseases

Last updated March 2018

News reports:

3.13.3 Back pain

Rahhal, Natalie. Smokers are nearly 50% more likely to need spinal surgery to relieve excruciating BACK PAIN. Daily Mail Australia, Jan 2018. Available from: http://www.dailymail.co.uk/health/article-5247481/Smokers-nearly-50-percent-risk-back-pain.html#comments

Research:

3.13.1 Bone density, osteoporosis and the risk of fractures

Namli Kalem, M. The relationship between postmenopausal women's sclerostin levels and their bone density, age, body mass index, hormonal status, and smoking and consumption of coffee and

3.13.2 Delayed bone union

3.13.3 Back pain

3.13.4 Other muscular-skeletal problems

