Relevant news and research

17.2 The costs and benefits of smoking to the Australian economy

Last updated September 2023

Research:

17.2.1 Smokers’ excess health service utilisation and costs .................................................. 6
17.2.2 Lifetime health and welfare costs for smokers and non-smokers .............................. 8
17.2.3 Burden of death and disease attributable to tobacco .................................................. 14
   17.2.3.1 The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare burden of disease study ............ 15
   17.2.3.2 Global Burden of Disease Study ........................................................................ 16
   17.2.3.3 International estimates of costs of health care attributable to smoking ............ 16
17.2.4 Productivity costs attributable to smoking ................................................................. 16
17.2.5 Estimates of total social costs of smoking ................................................................. 19
   17.2.5.1 Collins and Lapsley’s studies of social costs .................................................. 19
   17.2.5.2 Social costs of tobacco use to Australia 2015-16 ............................................. 19
17.2.6 The economic benefits of the tobacco industry ....................................................... 20
17.2.7 Economic costs studies internationally .................................................................... 20

News reports ......................................................................................................................... 20

17.2.1 Smokers’ excess health service utilisation and costs .................................................. 21
17.2.2 Lifetime health and welfare costs for smokers and non-smokers .............................. 21
17.2.3.1 The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare burden of disease study ............ 21
17.2.3.3 International estimates of costs of health care attributable to smoking ................. 21
17.2.5 Estimates of total social costs of smoking ................................................................. 21
17.2.6 The economic benefits of the tobacco industry ......................................................... 21
17.2.7 Economic costs studies internationally......................................................................... 22

Research:

Arrieta O, Quintana-Carrillo RH, Ahumada-Curiel G, Corona-Cruz JF, Correa-Acevedo E, et al. Medical care costs incurred by patients with smoking-related non-small cell lung cancer treated at the Lundborg P. Does smoking increase sick leave? Evidence using register data on swedish workers. Tobacco Control, 2007; 16(2):114–8. Available from: http://tobaccocontrol.bmj.com/cgi/content/abstract/16/2/114

17.2.1 Smokers' excess health service utilisation and costs

17.2.2 Lifetime health and welfare costs for smokers and non-smokers

Swedler DI, Miller TR, Ali B, Waehler G, and Bernstein SL. National medical expenditures by smoking status in american adults: An application of manning’s two-stage model to nationally representative

Pickles K. Smoking causes nearly 5,000 hospital admissions a day - and the number is still rising. Daily Mail 2016. Available from: http://www.dailymail.co.uk/health/article-3612400/Smoking-causes-nearly-5-000-hospital-admissions-day-number-rising.html

17.2.3 Burden of death and disease attributable to tobacco

17.2.3.1 The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare burden of disease study

17.2.3.2 Global Burden of Disease Study

17.2.3.3 International estimates of costs of health care attributable to smoking

17.2.4 Productivity costs attributable to smoking

17.2.5 Estimates of total social costs of smoking

17.2.5.1 Collins and Lapsley’s studies of social costs

17.2.5.2 Social costs of tobacco use to Australia 2015-16

17.2.6 The economic benefits of the tobacco industry

17.2.7 Economic costs studies internationally

News reports

17.2.1 Smokers’ excess health service utilisation and costs

17.2.2 Lifetime health and welfare costs for smokers and non-smokers

17.2.3.1 The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare burden of disease study

17.2.3.3 International estimates of costs of health care attributable to smoking

17.2.5 Estimates of total social costs of smoking

17.2.6 The economic benefits of the tobacco industry

17.2.7 Economic costs studies internationally

