Relevant news and research

7.3 Theories about smoking and quitting

Last updated October 2021

Research: ................................................................................................................. 2

7.3.1 Behavioural theories ......................................................................................... 3
7.3.2 Social cognitive theory ...................................................................................... 4
7.3.3 Theory of planned behaviour ............................................................................ 4
7.3.5 Social–ecological model ................................................................................... 5
7.3.6 Transtheoretical model/Stages of change ......................................................... 6
7.3.8 Physiological models of addiction .................................................................. 6
7.3.9 Smoking and quitting as products of social and environmental influences ..... 7
7.3.10 Religious views on smoking........................................................................... 10

News reports: .............................................................................................................. 12

7.3.3 Theory of planned behaviour ......................................................................... 12
7.3.4 Health belief model ......................................................................................... 13
7.3.7 Psychoanalytic theory ...................................................................................... 13
7.3.9 Smoking and quitting as products of social and environmental influences .... 13
Research:

7.3.1 Behavioural theories

7.3.2 Social cognitive theory

7.3.3 Theory of planned behaviour

7.3.5 Social–ecological model

7.3.6 Transtheoretical model/Stages of change

7.3.8 Physiological models of addiction

7.3.9 Smoking and quitting as products of social and environmental influences

7.3.10 Religious views on smoking

News reports:

7.3.1 Behavioural theories

7.3.3 Theory of planned behaviour

7.3.4 Health belief model

7.3.7 Psychoanalytic theory

7.3.9 Smoking and quitting as products of social and environmental influences

